

LUCKY NOSAKHARE IGBINEDION

TRIBUTE TO CAPI

In the passing of Captain Idahosa Wells Okunbo, the Benin Kingdom has lost a most illustrious son. Nigeria's business community has lost a most intrepid visionary innovator who did not fear to take the road less travelled. The larger Okunbo family has lost a most dependable pillar of support. His wife and children have lost a most loving, protective and exceptionally dedicated husband and father.

Capi may have left us for the great beyond, but his uncommon accomplishments in the course of his truly eventful life will keep his memory alive in perpetuity.

Defying the odds, he confronted the limitations imposed by his humble background, triumphed over them, and emerged as a benefactor and an enduring blessing to his family and society at larger.

Considering the outstanding success he made of his life, I can only pray that Almighty God imbues the family, dependants, colleagues and numerous friends he has left behind with the requisite strength to cope with this very saddening loss.

May the soul of Captain Idahosa Wells Okunbo rest eternally in the Lord's bosom.

Lucky Nosakhare Igbinedion